

THE LABOR UNIONS OF ALAMEDA COUNTY IN LINE.

Excellent Showing made by the Laboring Men--Thousands of People View the Parade--Twenty Unions were in the Procession--San Francisco Unions Make a Big Showing--The Day in New York.

For the first time in seven years, National Labor Day was celebrated in this city today. The celebration was an unqualified success.

Not a circumstance arose to in any manner militate against the carrying out of the plans of the celebration committee which were as admirably conceived as they were put into practice.

THE WEATHER.

The elements were in harmony with the occasion, because there was not even the suggestion of a cloud in the sky, while the heat of the sun was tempered to the degree which enables Oakland to enjoy the most perfect weather in the country.

MANY PEOPLE OUT.

The streets along which the procession marched was lined with thousands of people who were frequently impelled to applause by the appearance of some novelty in the line or by the imposing presence of this or that marching body of knights of labor.

ENSEMBLE.

Nearly all the trades unions in this city were represented in the procession. All of the members wore badges emblematic of their respective callings, many of them had rich and beautiful banners flashing in the sunlight and not a few of them displayed enterprise, intelligence and liberality in floats, which aroused the liveliest appreciation on the part of the onlookers.

INDUSTRIAL FEATURES.

The procession closed with a display of a number of industrial enterprises and business houses, the respective wares being borne on trucks effectively decorated, drawn by the finest kind of horseflesh and attended by the teamsters' union, which developed wonderful numerical strength.

NINETY MINUTES.

The procession consumed an hour and a half in passing a given point, and yet there was not a single break in the line.

The respective bodies, too, marched in close order, a novelty in such displays, because, as a rule, men and organizations usually trail after one another in the style of half-disorganized masses.

In nearly every instance the men marched four abreast. The presence of a number of bands enabled the walkers in each division to keep practically the same step as that which was maintained by the right of the column.

This was indeed a welcome novelty, because it is generally the fate of marching bodies in the average procession to be caught between the music of two bands, each band playing a different tempo, the result being that the men who are not fairly dancing trudge along as best they can, paying attention to neither of the music organizations.

WOMEN IN LINE.

An interesting feature of the procession was the presence of a number of women, who are members of the various unions. For these, the gallantry of the men had provided carryalls and floats. The women all appeared in white and presented a modest and at the same time an attractive appearance. A single exception in the matter of the color of the raiment was that of a young woman who acted as one of the auxiliary marshals at the head of one of the divisions, and who appeared in a black riding costume.

PERSONNEL.

It is estimated that 3,000 men took part in the display. As a whole, they presented an imposing appearance. They were well clad and seemed to be proud of their calling as also of their devotion to unionism.

In sympathy with the paraders, business in this city was at a stand-still.

Every store, office, work-shop and public building was closed and encouragement of every kind was given by employers to their operatives to make the display a creditable one.

UNEXCELLED.

The last preceding labor display was a most commendable one in every respect, but it paled into insignificance with that of today.

As a consequence, the projectors are gratified over the success, unionism has been endorsed and a deserving tribute has been paid to the dignity of labor.

FORMING IN LINE.

The several unions which took part in the procession rendezvoused on Second, Third, fourth and Fifth streets on the east and west sides of Broadway.

They were early on the ground, just like military commands responding to the orders of a general. There was no confusion. Order and regularity were noticed in every thing. The scene of the course, was an active and lively one.

STEEL STRIKERS MADE A LAST STAND AND FAILED TO WIN.

MEN AT THE CARNEGIE PLANT REFUSE TO TAKE PART IN PARADE AND DECLINE TO JOIN RANKS OF THE STRIKERS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 2.—The seventh week of the strike was ushered in today by a parade of the organized labor of this city and it is estimated that at least 20,000 men formed the inspiring laborers with a new sense of responsibility as well as of dignity, and has improved the moral tone of every community in which such organizations have been strong enough to exert a substantial influence in the labor field—raising the laborer above the vices and demoralizing decreations which have now given place to the earnest consideration of their rights and to earnest, self-sacrificing effort for their achievement.

THE CONDITIONS.

"No honest man of unprevented heart can look upon the conditions now prevailing in the industrial world and compare them with the conditions known to have existed before the influence of trades and labor unions began to be felt in the betterment of conditions, without feeling that labor organizations have been a beneficence, not alone to the laborers, but to our common civilization and to all who are within its pale.

THE DEMANDS.

"It is no answer to this to say or to show that the demands of organized labor have not always been just or that their methods have not always been best. They have made demands the justice of which I would not defend, and they have

FLOAT OF THE LOCKED-OUT.

Floats emblematic of the progress of labor were interspersed at frequent intervals throughout the procession and the marchers carried small American flags.

A feature of the parade was the float of the Union Iron Works' locked-out men, which was a miniature model of the Oregon and bearing, on a long streamer, the words, "We are the men who built the Oregon." A flag from Admiral Dewey's flagship, the Clymala, also lent interest to the float.

FIVE DIVISIONS.

The parade consisted of five divisions. The first division consisted of the iron trades unions and a platoon of sailors in uniform. The second division was composed of the unions in the Allied Printing Trades Council; the third division included the unions affiliated with the Industrial Trades Council; the fourth division was made up of miscellaneous unions; the fifth division consisted of three sections, the first composed of the unions affiliated with the City Front Federation, the second of the Team Drivers' Unions, including the Brotherhood of Teamsters, and the third section of the Sailors' Union and Marine Firemen and Marine Cooks and Waiters' Union.

LINE OF MARCH.

Along the line of march great crowds assembled to cheer the moving column, to lend encouragement and signify sympathy and support. The cheers that were given were answered with a will.

AT THE PAVILION.

At the conclusion of the parade the unionists assembled in Mechanics' Pavilion, filling the great old building to its very doors. When Walter Goff, president of the Labor Council, called the assemblage to order the applause that rang out fairly shook the rafters. Words of wisdom, of encouragement and advice were spoken, songs were sung and entertainment offered.

THE STRIKE.

However much the men as individuals spoke of the existing troubles, their speakers referred but lightly to the subject. While the outcome of the strike was a matter uppermost in every mind, the orators deemed it the part of wisdom to eschew discussion of the events of the past six weeks and to deal with union rights and prerogatives on broad and liberal grounds.

CONGRESSMAN MAGUIRE.

In his address to the mechanics at the pavilion, Congressman Maguire said in part:

"The condition of labor has been vastly improved throughout the world during the last twenty-five years.

PERSIA IN MIDST OF TROUBLE.

A Widespread Revolutionary Movement is in Progress.

CLEVELAND WILL SUFFER LOSS.

Much Damage Was Done by the Floods and Lives Were Threatened.

COLOGNE, Sept. 2.—A dispatch to the Cologne Gazette from Teheran dated August 31, says:

A widespread revolutionary movement is going on in Persia, fostered by discontent with the government on account of the new loan negotiations with Russia. The Grand Vizier is accused of selling the country and failing to make reforms. Martial law has been proclaimed in the capital and environs.

The agitation, it is said, proceeds from the entourage of the Shah, who frequently finds threatening letters upon his writing table.

UNION COAL MINERS REFUSE TO WORK.

OLIVER SPRINGS, Tenn., Sept. 2.—Union coal miners are out of the mines here and refuse to return to work until an agreement is reached with the operators relative to a new wage schedule.

HAS MANY OF THE BOER PRISONERS ABOARD.

ST. VINCENT, C. V. I., Sept. 2.—The steamer Montrouge, which sailed from Cape Town for Bermuda August 16, carrying 300 British troops and 37 Boer prisoners, has arrived here and will proceed for her destination tomorrow.

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 2.—Today's sunshine and clean streets filled with marching laborers afforded a pleasant contrast to yesterday's devastation by a rainfall that flooded sewers and poored into low-lying streets which threatened hundreds of lives and did great destruction to homes, roadways, boulevards and other property. Notwithstanding the great property damage, not a loss of life has been reported. Street car traffic has resumed regularly. Trains on the roads from the East passing the flooded district are delayed about an hour.

The work of repairing the damage done to homes is going on, but many houses will have to be rebuilt. The water that flooded the streets has passed away through the sewers, and the streets are rivers of water six feet deep yesterday are today back to their usual condition.

Episcopal Church, on Euclid avenue and in the midst of a flooded district, was considerably damaged, the water reaching to height of four feet, flooding its interior.

No accurate estimate of the actual loss can be stated, but it will be heaviest in the destruction of roadways, the paving-in of street improvements, etc. In Glen Park Place several houses were prevented from being swept away because of the nearness of the next door residence, which served as a damper, the second house being prevented from moving away because of its foundation having been washed under it, allowing the building to drop like a dead weight on its side.

Families in the washed-out homes were cared for at the homes of friends throughout the day.

ONE DIVORCE FOR THREE MARRIAGES.

REMARKABLE SHOWING MADE BY FIGURES OF COUN-TY CLERK.

One-third of the Civil Suits Are Filed by People Seeking Separations.

The records of the County Clerk's office show that at least one-third of the civil suits filed in the Superior Court are actions for divorces.

This is a remarkable showing, considering the fact that it requires five departments of the Superior Court to handle the legal business.

There is an average of one suit for divorce filed each day. The total number of divorce cases filed this month was 29, while the total number of suits of all kinds filed was only 87.

July there were 20 divorce suits out of a total of 267 actions filed.

HAVE NO USE FOR THE SULTAN.

France and Turkey Have Not Yet
Come to an Agree-

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 2.—M. Barbat, counsellor of the French embassy, and the other members of the embassy staff took the guardship Vautour on an excursion up the Sea of Marmora in order to avoid dressing the vessel as the other warships in the harbor were dressed in recognition of the anniversary of the Sultan's accession to the throne, which was celebrated yesterday. The members of the embassy did not participate in the
congratulations of the diplomatic corps, nor was the embassy illuminated.

Turkish officials received only forty to sixty per cent of their salaries on
the anniversary of the Sultan's accession to the throne, which was celebrated yesterday. The members of the embassy did not participate in the
congratulations of the diplomatic corps, nor was the embassy illuminated.

The police do not take any stock in the girl's story, and say they believe that she simply ran away from home.

STATE EQUALIZERS IN SESSION.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 2.—The State Board of Equalization met today and fixed the State tax levy at 48 cents on each $100 worth of taxable property. This is a reduction over last year of 1 cent and 8 mills.

It was shown to the Board that there was needed for the general fund $2,750,000; for the school fund, $2,828,071; interest and sinking fund, $147,455, making a total necessary to carry on the government for the next year $5,419,506. Added to this is the State University ad valorem tax of 2 cents.

The Board instructed the Auditor of San Bernardino county to extend the assessment so as to provide for the payment of certain bonds in the Needville school district. The Board also reduced the assessment on the Pullman Car Company from $500,000 to $500,000 on the representation by that company that cars had been reported in which were outside of the State when the original report was filed. This, however, did not affect the tax levy one way or the other.

TWENTY MEN GO ON A STRIKE.

The grain handlers at Howard & Company's bunkers on the water front went on a strike today because the company would not pay them wages and a half for their day's work, this being a holiday.

Policemen were sent to protect the premises.

REMOVED THIRTY-TWO PIECES OF EPIDERMIS.

On Saturday last an operation for the grafting of skin upon the injured limb of Little Albin Hunt, son of Mrs. George
P. Hunt, secretary of the Girard Piano Company, who was injured near Santa Cruz several months ago, took place at Fabiola Hospital. The operation was skillfully and successfully performed by Drs. J. P. and W. L. Dunn. The epidermis was taken from the person of the mother of the boy, who declined the offer of several persons to undergo the ordeal. Maternal love was too strong in the premises to admit of a substitute. Mrs. Hunt's husband was absent without a murmur, desiring the use of anaesthetics, although 22 different injections were made.
It was the most extensive operation of the kind ever performed her.

LABOR DAY OBSERVED AT THE CAPITAL CITY.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 2.—Labor day was observed in this city today.
Banks, factories and mercantile houses men being in line. This afternoon the unions had a celebration at Ardent Park, a barbecue being one of the features of the day.

She says that while she was walking along the street near her home an old man seized her and compelled her to accompany him on the train to Oakland.

When near this city she says she was abandoned by the old woman. The girl asserts that she spent last even-

HOW TO ECONOMIZE.

OME men economize so closely on the number of words in a telegram that the receiver can not understand it. This is not sensible economy. Neither is it sensible economy to ruin garments of value with cheap soap or powerful chemicals that eat into the fabric. True economy uses Ivory Soap in the laundry. It is the most of pure soap that can be sold for the money. Chemically it is as innocent as water. Yet it does everything you can ask of a soap. Try it!

GIANT DREDGER BEGINS WORK ON THE CANAL.

THOUSANDS OF PEOPLE WATCH THE WORK ON TIDAL CANAL

—STEAM SHOVEL OPERATES IN SAN LE-

ANDRO BAY.

ALAMEDA, Sept. 2.—With the arrival of the big dredger Olympia yesterday, active work began on the Tidal Canal.

The dredger arrived at the Park street bridge on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock and was compelled to wait four hours before it could get through.

The bridge was opened by the dredger, a cable from the latter being attached to the bridge, the cable being operated by the dredger's machinery.

After getting through the bridge it took some time to get the dredger in shape for work. Everything was ready at 5:30 p. m. yesterday.

Twenty-two men are at work on the dredger while six are kept busy on shore.

The work went on all last night and two shifts will continue to operate both day and night.

The present work of the dredger is to get the soft mud from the bottom of the canal and prepare it for the steam shovel which will take up the hard layer underneath.

It is now the intention of the engineers to construct a dam above the bridge, then pump the lower end of the canal dry and if the proposition is carried out it is their intention to use the Olympia to construct the same.

The big steam shovel is now located in the San Leandro bay and will be operating within a few days.

The mud being removed now is pumped through a 20-inch pipe to the old Fruitvale creek.

Yesterday afternoon great crowds lined either side of the canal watching the work of the big dredger.

involved are of vast importance, not only to the companies but to water supplying corporations. The fight is to be made upon the theory that the San Lorenzo Water Company, which supplies Hayward, neglected to furnish adequate service and that the immense losses could have been prevented if there had been a sufficient supply of water at hand for use when the fire was in its incipiency.

The immense buildings, the valuable machinery, therein contained and all of the structures, cannery, warehouses and can plant, including many thousand dollars' worth of tin plate, manufactured cans, machinery and other paraphernalia, were burned to a worthless mass, only fit for the scrap pile of a junk yard. The fire occurred on the night of April 12.

The agreement which the interested insurance companies have signed recites the following:

"The said insurance companies claim that it was entirely due to the act or neglect of the San Lorenzo Water Company that the fire of April 12 at Hayward assumed its serious proportions, and claim that with a proper and adequate water supply said fire could readily have been extinguished in its incipiency; and claim that absence of said proper and accurate water supply was entirely due to the act or neglect of said San Lorenzo Water Company."

The following companies, through their agents in Francisco, have signed the agreement:

Aetna Insurance Company, San Insurance Company, Insurance Company of North America, National Standard Insurance Company, London and Lancashire Fire Insurance Company, Netherlands Fire Insurance Company, Greenwich Fire Insurance Company, Pennsylvania Fire Insurance Company, Home Fire and Marine Insurance Company, Manchester Assurance Company, Caledonian Insurance Company, American Fire Insurance Company of New York, Delaware Insurance Company, American Fire Insurance Company of Philadelphia, Commercial Union Assurance Company (Limited), American Insurance Company of Newark, Mercantile Fire and Marine Insurance Company, American Insurance Company of Boston, Northern Assurance Company.

The Painters and Decorators Union No. 127, was next in line. They presented the most elaborate appearance in the procession. Each man was attired in a canvas suit and hat, as white as a dove's feathers could make them. The suits were just from the store, having been ordered especially for the occasion. The boys also wore a bright boutonnieres and were as merry as children, each one jubilating over the success which had attended the recent strike. There were about 250 in line. They were accompanied by a mascot, in the person of a little boy in painter's costume, named Walter Bernal. The flag was carried by Charles Cahill and the banner by Brother Lee assisted by Brothers Gibson and Updegroff. The organization marched like regulars and created a most favorable impression all along the line.

Following the last-mentioned organization came the Cigar Makers, 30 in number. This organization was headed by L. Bahr, who bore suspended from a golden rod, a mammoth cigar. Each man wore a facsimile of the union cigar label on white satin which was pinned to his left breast. This delegation was the largest representation of local cigar makers that has ever appeared in a procession in this city. This is due to the fact that union cigars are more patronized here now than they ever were before, and yet, if half the cigars which are smoked here now were manufactured here, employment could be given to five times the present number of cigar makers.

After the cigarmakers came the float of the butchers. It was driven by George Kendall. It was in charge of S. T. Smith. It consisted of a canopy of greens supported by columns of

Chief of Police Hodgkins, with a view of what might happen, ordered the city's patrolmen to leave their clubs at his office to be tested as to serviceability. As a result the chief found many clubs to be in a condition of disrepair, stained to the color of the regulation rosewood. The worthless clubs were smashed and ordered given to the patrolmen to supply themselves with clubs that would stand the test of a hard blow.

would have impeded the progress of the column off the thoroughfare.

THE POLICE.

Behind these marched Captain of Police Peterson in a full captain's uniform differing only in slight degree from that of the chief. The captain was on foot and bore in his right hand, a tasseled beanie. Behind him, in a platoon, which extended across the thoroughfare, moved sixteen stalwarts of the police force of this city in regular uniform. The men presented a formidable appearance and marched with as much regularity as could reasonably be expected from persons who have not the advantage of daily drill in tactics. The officers in line were Ernest, Agnew, Cockerton, Collett, Andrews, Sill, McKeegan, Lynch, Kyte, Scanlan, Layton, Brannon, Murcell, Woods, Gilbert and Powers.

THE MARSHAL.

Then came the Grand Marshal, C. L. D. Wren, who appeared upon proper horse and wore a yellow sash from left to right and an Alpine hat on which was a plume of the same color. He was attended by his chief aides J. F. Kick and R. P. Poorman, each of the two latter wearing white sashes.

FOURTH DIVISION.

Following came B. H. Taylor, marshal of the first division, wearing a red scarf. He was attended by a couple of aides in blue sashes.

Next was a barouche containing President Rodgers of the State Federation of Labor, Joseph B. Rebok, and several other members of the Celebration Committee.

The right of the line of this division was held by Alameda County District.

United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, which was representative of the several local organizations of that craft. Among the latter the first was the Alameda Union, No. 36, U. B. C. J. A. This comprised 40 men in the vigor of life and as intelligent as could be desired in any avocation. They were, as a rule, attired in black, and Fred Murdoch, a member of the craft, who was an aide to the division marshal, took special pains to see that they were shown off to the greatest advantage. At their head was a new banner made of red and blue silk, which had evidently but just issued from the hands of the embroiderer and decorator. On it were emblazoned symbols of the craft, together with the title of the organization and the date on which it was brought into existence. The banner was held by A. Herbst, while the side cords were held by John Shaw and W. J. Atkinson. The men walked four abreast and kept in time with the music in an almost martial tread.

Following the Clerks' Union came one of the most notable features of the fourth division. His aides were C. G. Simpson and T. E. Johnson, in charge of Barbers' Union No. 134, numbering about 80. A. R. Newhard, in charge of Retail Clerks' Association No. 47, numbering about 130. Miss C. Newberry, in charge of the Laundry Workers' Union, numbering about 230, of which 120 were young women employees.

THE INDIAN TROUBLES.

The Arizona correspondents who years ago earned a reputation for sensationalism and have maintained it ever since, are treating the public to another wild and woolly invoice. This time they announce another Apache outbreak and tell of how the Indians are on a wild rampage that has reached such dimensions that the soldiers are no longer able to control them.

When the facts become known it will doubtless be found that the extent of the disturbance is that some of the Apaches have been drinking too much fire water at the tribal dance that takes place annually on the reservation. As long as their liquid supplies hold out, some of the bucks may be quarreling and hard to handle but as for their going on the warpath that is out of the question. The days of Indian wars have gone forever. In the first place the number of braves capable of fighting has so diminished as to negative the possibility of a dangerous force taking the field, and then again the reservation system is so severe as to preclude all chances of a general outbreak.

At the San Carlos in Arizona for example, a large force of troops is in permanent quarters and the patrol system is so thorough that at the least indication of trouble the dangerous elements are put under a surveillance that makes it impossible for them to stir up their fellow tribesmen to a general movement. Furthermore, unless the Indians obey implicitly the orders of the commander of the reservation they cannot get rations, clothing and other necessities furnished to them by the Government and as their life or ease suits them well it is hard to get them to forego it for the sake of a sentimental revenge against the whites.

With the capture of Geronimo by Lieutenant Gatewood ten years or so ago, all fears of Apache raids in Arizona may in fact be said to have passed away. His predecessor, Victoria had for years kept the Chiricahuas stirred up to constant warfare and when Victoria was killed after a hot fight that extended into Mexico, Geronimo became the chief of the tribe and the hostilities were continued for years, the settlers meantime being in a state of constant terror. General Miles however inaugurated the campaign that brought about the old chief's undoing and since that time the San Carlos country has been undisturbed save by occasional disturbances such as the present one. It is not important enough to classify it as an outbreak and as for the "Indian War" that the Arizona newspaper men are telegraphing about, why that is simply ridiculous.

If the truth were known most of these rumors are probably inspired with the object of covering up the real work the diplomats are doing.

A LOCAL REVIVAL.

Since the announcement that the earnings of the Southern Pacific Railroad are to be used for building up and developing the line and that much of the money is to be spent in adding to the accommodations for local traffic in and out of San Francisco, realty dealers are well justified in declaring that a pronounced movement will take place in land and house values hereabouts. The more facilities that are afforded for reaching and leaving the metropolis, the greater will naturally become the number of suburban residents, for to many people, especially those of family life on the outskirts of a large city is infinitely preferable to being cooped up amidst the foul air malodors and other inconveniences of metropolitan existence.

Oakland, Alameda, Berkeley, San Leandro, Haywards and the other settlements on this side of the bay are certain to participate very fully in the benefits about to be bestowed by the railroad in connection with this local traffic, for the bulk of outside patronage is located here and in its work of building up outside communities it stands to reason our requirements will be first considered. More frequent ferry trips an all-night or at least a later service, additional local trains to intercity points in the county and further facilities for connecting with the trains and boats are among the boons that will probably fall to our lot, and all these benefits will of course attract other residents and add to our local wealth and resources.

For a home wedding it was one of the most charming of the week was that of Henry Stenzel of San Lorenzo and Miss Hattie Clara Kuerzel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kuerzel of 613 Fourteenth street which took place last evening at the home of the bride's parents.

The parlor where the ceremony took place was beautifully decorated with flowers and evergreens. At the appointed time the bride appeared in the arm of her father who gave her away. She was attired in a handsome travelling gown of the latest design. Miss Kuerzel was supported by her sister, Miss Gretchen who acted as bridesmaid. Mr. Otto Kuerzel was best man. The young couple stood in front of a bower of flowers where the Rev. Kelley of the First English Lutheran Church pronounced them husband and wife.

Congratulations were in order after which a bridal banquet was served. At 7 o'clock the happy couple departed amid a shower of rice. They will spend a short time in Sacramento after which they will tour Southern California, returning in about three weeks.

The couple received many handsome and useful gifts. Mr. Stenzel has provided a handsome home for his bride at San Lorenzo.

Miss Kuerzel is the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kuerzel. She is a talented and accomplished young lady.

Mr. Stenzel is a member of the pioneer Stenzel family of this county. He owns one of the largest ranches in Alameda county.

That we are justified in anticipating such an impetus is proven by the conditions already prevailing here, new houses are going up in every direction, real estate is in good demand, and a general air of advancement pervades the entire section. When to this, therefore, is added the additional factors about to be provided by the railroad it is patent that our onward march will be increased to seven-league strides, for an additional population brings more business houses and more local enterprises, the whole combining to build up a community in the best possible way. The prospects on this side of the bay are therefore brighter than ever and it is no mere dream to foresee in the not very distant future the rival metropolis here that practical minds have always prophesied would come when we awakened to our opportunities and availed ourselves of them.

Weather sharps are predicting a condition of climate that will prevail very light winds during the period scheduled for the international yacht races.

We may be able to take the wind out of their sails after all, despite the drubbings the Constitution is getting regularly.

CYCLING AT 90.

A Busy Old Gentleman in England Who Stays Up-to-Date.

There is probably no older cyclist in the world than Mr. J. C. Johnson of Gravesend who, though in his ninety-first year, recently performed the remarkable feat of cycling from Gravesend to Northfleet to discharge his magisterial duties. In fact, he is out on his machine daily, and rides all over the district. Mr. Johnson was born on January 28, 1811, and did not commence cycling until 1898.

Everybody seemed to be on wheels, so he thought he should like to cycle too, but had an idea that he should not be able to fit his legs sufficiently high for the usual crank—about six inches, making a circle of twelve inches—so he enlisted the services of a local maker and superintended the construction of a machine to his own specification, having only a four-inch crank and wheels twenty-four inches in diameter, and with no cross-bar at the top, so as to render mounting more easy.

When this was finished he had the assistance of the maker on three different occasions, amounting in all to one and three-quarter hours, after which he went on riding alone—a wonderful feat for a man 88 years of age. The four-inch cranks, however, did not give leverage enough for rising ground, so he had them replaced by five-inch cranks. This was a decided improvement. Mr. Johnson does not ride at a great speed, but it must be admitted that ten miles an hour is good going for such a veteran.

Mr. Johnson attributes his remarkable physical powers to total abstinence. For many years he has taken little or no medicine. He is still able to attend to much business from early morning to 11 o'clock at night. He is a director of two large companies in London, and is actively employed in many commercial enterprises. In addition to cycling he has two other hobbies—photography and zinc and copper engraving. Another sign of his vitality is the other. Victoria he preached a sermon at Gravesend with remarkable clearness and fluency, lasting three-quarters of an hour.

YACHT ALERT ATTACHED TO SECURE A CLAIM.

T. M. Kendall and F. V. Green have filed a general demurrer to the suit of Robert Vincent, to recover $1,021 on contract. All three of the men are owners of the yacht Alert. Vincent has filed an attachment on the yacht to secure his claim.

MILLMEN DO NOT EXPECT ANY TROUBLE.

AGREEMENT GOES INTO EFFECT TOMORROW IN MANY OF THE MILLS.

Proprietors Will Probably Not Force Men to Join the Union.

By an agreement entered into several months ago, between the Planing Mill Men's Association and the Mill Men's Union, all the mills in this county are expected to go into effect.

It is now an open question as to whether some of the mills will take that action, though it is certain that, in one instance, at least, the agreement will not be complied with, and that is in the case of the Pacific Coast Lumber and Mill Co., of which A. Kendall is the manager.

This concern now employs, in the main, only non-union men, and the management has decided to have no affiliation with organized labor in any sense of the term.

When the strike of mill workers and carpenters was settled in March of this year, it was with the understanding that, from the first Monday of that month until the 1st of June, the Planing Mill Men's Association was not required to employ union men. After the expiration of that period, all skilled workmen employed by the Mill Men's Association were to be members of the Mill Men's Union. The Building Trades Council agreed not to handle any materials coming out of mills not working according to the terms of the agreement.

The provision that, after June 1, all skilled men in the mills were to be union men has not been lived up to in all places as will be seen by the following, which represents the situation at the present time. At the Ingier mill on Washington street, E. S. Young, one of the firm, said:

"It remains to be seen what will be done. It will be all owing to how the way things go. I think they will let them go the way they are going. I don't think there will be compulsion on either side. I can't tell what we will do. We have made a statement to the Building Trades Council, but I cannot tell you what that statement is. We have a number of union men in our employ. All of the men are not members of the Mill Men's Union."

Humboldt Lumber Co.—All the men in our mill are union men. They are working only eight hours a day. They are paid according to the kind of work they do. There is no established wage by the Mill Men's Union.

Burnham-Standford Co. — We have nothing to do in the matter. I don't know what action will be taken. If any action at all will be taken, The lion and the lamb have been lying down together for some time. We are raising men according to their work. We have accepted the terms of the union of eight hours a day. We don't force our men to become members of the Mill Men's Union. If the union can force us to do that, we will, perhaps, have to accept their terms.

Washington Street Planing Mill—All the men here, with the exception of one man upstairs, are members of the Mill Men's Union. I don't know whether he will join the union or not or what will be done in the matter. The proprietors are not opposed to union men. Two applications for membership in the union were made last night and another goes in at once. We are working eight hours a day and getting a rate of wages according to the work done.

In this connection it may be stated that in the agreement first referred to there was the following proviso:

"Furthermore, no strikes, boycotts or lockouts shall be entertained or entered into by any party to this agreement until a period of thirty days shall be allowed for the adjustment of any disputes that may arise. An additional period of six months shall be allowed, after due notice in writing shall have been given, before any strike, boycott or lockout shall be attempted or enforced by order of the Building Trades Council or any of its affiliated organizations or by any member of the Planing Mill Men's Association."

MASONS AT THE BANQUET BOARD.

John A. Britton Installs His Son as a Member of the Order.

An unusual incident in the life of a Masonic lodge was the initiation into the mysteries of the order of a candidate while the candidate's father was in possession of the Master's chair. Such a scene was witnessed last Saturday night in the lodge room of Oakland Lodge, F. and A. M., of this city.

The candidate was Van Leer Britton, and the Worshipful Master was John A. Britton, president and general manager of the Oakland Gas Light & Heat Company.

The unusual nature of the exercises had attracted the attention of Masons generally and, as a consequence, the lodge room was filled with members of the craft, as it has not been filled for many a night.

The Third Degree was conferred upon the candidate by the father of the young man, the work being done in a most impressive manner, a number of the older members being visibly affected, not alone by the ceremonies which tended to perpetuate the organization, but by the devotion of the father and the filial respect of the son in emulating, in entering the mystic tie, the example of the parent.

At the banquet which followed the exercises Worshipful Master Britton made an interesting address. District Inspector E. H. Hart spoke on "Trust Greatness."

A number of sentiments were proposed and responded to and a number of stories were told, the leaders among the story tellers being Judge Melvin.

MRS. E. DEBOICE IS BURIED FROM ST. JOHN'S.

The funeral of Mrs. Elizabeth Deboice, an old resident of this city, was held yesterday from the St. John's Episcopal Church. A large number of pioneer residents gathered to pay the last respects to the deceased, who had resided here continuously for forty-one years. Many beautiful and appropriate floral tributes were sent by friends and acquaintances. Rev. M. N. Ray, rector of St. John's read the impressive funeral ritual of the Episcopal Church. The interment took place in Mountain View Cemetery. The pall bearers were E. Voorhees, F. A. Campbell, E. Perata and J. Gordon.

The deceased was well known on account of her numerous and unostentatious charities. Her husband preceded her in death by many years. She also lost her only child, Mrs. Lily Crafts, about two years ago. Mrs. Deboice was a native of New Jersey and was 65 years old.

MRS. ANNE REAGH DIES SUDDENLY.

Mrs. Annie Mitchell Reagh died very suddenly at her home, 948 Myrtle street of heart disease last Saturday evening. The deceased was 45 years old and had resided in this city for the last 18 years. She leaves two children, Edward and Corine Reagh, and is a sister of Supervisor J. A. Mitchell, Mrs. E. J. Parker and Bell Mitchell.

The funeral was held today from the First Baptist Church. The interment was private and took place in Mountain View Cemetery.

ADDITIONAL BOOKS FOR OAKLAND PUBLIC LIBRARY.

Librarian Green reports the gift to the Public Library from D. Henshaw Ward of the complete works of Swift in twenty-four volumes; the native races of the Pacific, by Hubert Bancroft, the History of Harvard, by Josiah Quincy and the works of Daniel Webster in six volumes.

The Library has also added to the number of its German books by the purchase of "The Bismarck Memorial" a handsomely illustrated book containing full-page lithographs of exquisite workmanship and design of the principal events in the Iron Chancellor's life. The book is worthy of attention even from those who do not read German on account of the illustrations, which are the best examples of printer's art that Germany is capable of producing.

WAS BADLY BEATEN BY BAND OF STRIKERS.

W. H. Riley, a non-union teamster, was assaulted by a number of strikers at the corner of Steuart and Mission streets, San Francisco and beaten so badly that at the Harbor Hospital it was found necessary to put a half dozen stitches in his scalp. Riley resides in Oakland and was on his way to the ferry when the assault occurred.

DIVORCE CASES.

The following divorce cases have been referred to Court Commissioner Babcock to take testimony: Howard Torr against C. L. Torr; Gertrude M. Sharpe against Frank E. Sharpe; Maria M. W. Nordling against Ewald E. Nordling. The defendant in each case defaulted.

NON-UNION MEN WORK ON THE WATER FRONT.

TRYING TO PREVENT A STRIKE AMONG THE LUMBER MEN.

Vessels Are Being Unloaded and the Material is Being Handled.

Everything has been quiet on the water front for the past few days, the principal activity noted being the unloading of several vessels, non-union labor being employed in each instance.

The vessels in question are the steamer Arcata, which is discharging coal at the Pacific Coast Company's wharf. Heretofore, she has unloaded at the City wharf.

At Stone's wharf, the schooner Free Trade is unloading lumber for the E. B. and A. L. Stone Supply Company and the schooner Ada McEwen is unloading lumber for an up-river trip.

IN THE STREAM.

The schooner Industry is in the stream awaiting a berth at the same wharf.

At the City wharf, the schooner Guide is unloading 150,000 feet of lumber of the Eagle Box factory.

The steam schooner Coronado, which is now at long wharf unloading 100,000 feet of lumber for the Southern Pacific Railroad will return to Derby's wharf tomorrow and there discharge the residue of her cargo of lumber. The wharf at that place is now rough piled with lumber eight feet in height and the work of handling the rest of the cargo will not be an easy one. And yet, the dock can not be cleared by non-union men, because the moment they undertake to move the material, the union men in the yards will be called out and the anticipated strike will take place.

AVERTING A STRIKE.

A movement is on foot to try and avert such a result and it is understood that the matter will be discussed at a meeting of the Building Trades Council Tuesday evening.

The four-masted schooner Muriel is still moored at the Puget Sound Company's wharf.

After an appropriate address of welcome from a Gaelic solo, "The Minstrel Boy," by President M. J. Lawless, the meeting was entertained by vocal and instrumental music by Master Victor McCarthy; J. R. Kelly, Miss Marguerite McCarthy, Stephen Mahoney and Mrs. Martin, James O'Leary gave a Gaelic reading by Father O'Leary which was well received, and was followed by Mr. Francis McCallister in a dramatic reading, a Gaelic reading by Miss Katherine Murphy from the "Gael" of New York was followed by a Gaelic solo rendered in an inspiring manner by Principal Hanora O'Leary. Chairman Lawless next called on secretary Theodore Lynch of the Father O'Gowry branch of San Francisco who delivered a short practical address on the theme being an impromptu talk on "The Mission of the Celtic Race." Mr. Lynch said: "The Celts have to day not only to prepare himself for a leading position in his own country, but also in a great measure in the work at large, where his intense spirituality and passionate love of liberty generated by centuries of suffering makes the twenty million of unabsober Celtic people throughout the earth an irresistible and formidable force to be reckoned with in the affairs of the world, as the advocate of the down trodden and oppressed of justice to labor and as a representative of moral force in the affairs of mankind."

One of the brightest chapters in the local struggle for industrial freedom of organized labor, he said, was Father York's forcible exhortation to the toiling masses of America to stand up for their rights as Christian men, undismayed by the arrogant conspiracy of Mahon to crush the American workmen. Apart from the issue of religious belief and the conservatism of holy religion, the bulwark of all human society, the question of questions uppermost in the mind of every thoughtful man or woman is the proper adjustment of this grave social and labor problem. There can be no subject of more vital interest with the present feeling of unrest and industrial conflict that prevails. "Fortunately," added Mr. Lynch, whose sentiments were followed with sympathetic interest, "signs are not wanting that the century now opening will have as its special mission the settlement on a more satisfactory basis than hitherto of the relations of capital and labor."

The Oakland Gaelic League is increasing in membership at every meeting, and already numbers among its members many of the most prominent Irish residents of the Athens of the Pacific, including Rev. Father King, pastor of the Church of the Immaculate Conception; Rev. Father Gleeson, pastor of St. Anthony's Church, East Oakland; Rev. Lawrence R. Sarda, pastor of Sacred Heart Church, Alameda; Hon. P. O'Kane, J. D. Donnel, Daniel Spillane, James O'Leary, M. J. Lawless, J. R. Kelly, John Kenny, Thomas F. Marshall, Thomas Walsh, B. McManus, Edmund J. Murphy, Hugh Quinn at Stephen Mahoney—Monitor.

GOT POOR FOOD AND BEAT THE BOAT'S COOK.

Joseph McGuire, a sailor, was arrested by Sergeant Green and Patrolman Quigley at Boole's shipyards on a charge of battery. McGuire says the cook on the ship where he has been working has been serving very poor food to the sailors and that to even up scores he gave the cook a beating.

R. B. AYER WILL LEAD WAY TO THE HUNTING GROUNDS.

Police Judge Mortimer Smith to a party consisting of L. T. Parker, Fred Gardner and J. Bernard left today for a hunting trip in Mendocino county.

The ladies are said to be expert hunters and expect to bag their share of deer and other game.

POLICE JUDGE SMITH TO HUNT IN MENDOCINO.

OCCUPANTS OF BUGGY THROWN OVER A BANK.

NILES, Sept. 2.—John Rose and family were thrown from a buggy over a high embankment yesterday. They were driving near the railroad track when the San Jose train came by. The horses became frightened and ran over the embankment between the tracks. The buggy was overturned and its occupants thrown out, but none of them were seriously injured.

There is on file with the Board of Supervisors a petition to remove the bridge crossing the Alameda creek and construct a new one further up the canyon. This would permit teams coming from the direction of San Jose to enter Niles without having to cross the railroad track. The estimated expense of the change is $7,000.

An unknown woman was struck by the San Jose train at Niles yesterday. The train was backing up at the time. The woman, who was seriously injured, was removed to her home in San Francisco.

WAS BLOWN UP BY STICKS OF DYNAMITE.

HAYWARDS, Sept. 2.—Saturday afternoon Peter Marole, who has been employed by the Contra Costa Water Company at Lake Chabot, was blown up by dynamite.

Marole, together with several other men, have been employed by the company to kill the carp in the lake, which work has been done with the aid of dynamite.

Several days ago some sticks of the explosive were mislaid, but the matter was soon forgotten, as they were supposed to have been used in the work. Saturday afternoon Marole was burning some brush and dry grass near the edge of the lake when suddenly a great explosion occurred which threw the man about a hundred feet, tearing his clothes and bruising him considerably. When found by the other men Marole was in an unconscious condition. He was badly shaken up, but will recover.

BERKELEY, Sept. 2.—Labor Day passed away quietly in the college town. There was no demonstration of any kind and the outgoing trains and electric cars were crowded with residents bent upon seeing the parades in San Francisco or Oakland.

The State University and public schools were closed and the town took on a holiday appearance.

HAYWARDS LADIES HOLD A WATERMELON SOCIAL.

HAYWARDS, Sept. 2.—The Native Daughters of this place recently gave a watermelon social at the park which was a great success.

The young ladies had been preparing for the affair for some time and the result was a fine time. The pavilion at the park was decorated in attractive style, red, white and blue bunting and Japanese lanterns being used with effect.

The evening was spent in dancing and playing games.

The feast consisted of watermelon which was placed on two long tables.

There were more than 150 people present and the festivities lasted until 12 o'clock, at which time a special car arrived at the park and took the merry crowd back to town.

The music of the evening was furnished by T. H. Thorndike, William Allen and Manuel Rodgers.

CHARGE OF BATTERY WAS NOT PROSECUTED.

HAYWARDS, Sept. 2.—Judge Prowse has just dismissed the battery case against Hans Nor, owing to the fact that the complaining witness failed to appear.

It seems that several weeks ago Willie Ekstrom while coming from school was attacked by several dogs owned by Nor.

The boy to protect himself picked up several stones and was preparing to kick the dogs away when Nor ran out. He accused the boy of throwing stones at his dogs and at once proceeded to pull the little fellow's ears and slap his face, so it is alleged. This charge is now dismissed.
